ABOUT ME

I was born in Barcelona in 1984. I always felt photography was something magical. My first camera was a polaroid but soon I would discover film with my father's Nikon F3. Nowadays I still shoot analog 35mm, large and medium format as well as DSLR. For romatics like me, photography is an endless world that allows both viewers and photographers to understand a story, a concept, a life and a frozen moment through the perception of a single image.
