Biography

Mr. Peng Qi has researched and been practicing on the subject of "Imagination Fractal Art and Post-internet Art" for more than 10 years. Peng Qi gets inspired from multi-culture of boundless internet worldwide and Chinese ancient thoughts, transferring the surrounding world to illusionary images in his minds that he later expresses on his paintings. His creations emphasize on the imaginary configuration of the illusions and he has successfully created the Flashing Body series, Eidolon series, Dog series, Phoenix series, Mountain Goddess series, Portrait series, Iris series, Bamboo series, Scenery series, and Abstract series. He paints diversity themes with his own unique language and skills.

Peng Qi is always trying hard to find a new way of contemporary art that bears the characteristics of the age. He combines the traditional oil painting skills with computer technologies and design thoughts, integrating the texture of painting with the features of internet art and digital art. In the terms of color expressions, Peng Qi pursues virtual and photoelectric color effects that are different from the copy of nature color. In the terms of space, he breaks through the three dimensional space time, enters into a higher dimensional space time, bringing the traditional culture a feeling of modern science and technology, as well as a feeling of the mysterious universe. With the development of his research, the language of Peng Qi's artworks becomes more accurate and pure.

Statement

My artworks emphasize on expressing the features of oil painting language in the digital and network era, trying to vitalize the ancient technologies of oil painting by cooperating with the high-tech machines and internet. In perception, I try to bring the "virtual reality" to the social reality definition, the former exists in the digital and network world, in which the human beings are living but is turned a blind eye to.

Here the bubble and fragmented space time relationship needs to be realigned. The understandings of vacuum and plenum break away from the ontology context of traditional philosophy. Blood Pressure, Sphygmus, Retina, Nerve, Emotion and other physiological and psychological states interact with the fast-flowing information, inspiring new things that are different from the ancients. This kind of arts are still forming, nothing to learn from the world art history. What I can do is keeping on researching and thinking independently. The past ten years' researches and creating experiences tell me that Art is also a kind of interesting religion, whose meanings are more than oneself. I am determined to be a running man on my art adventure like Forrest Gump.
